CURRICULUM VITAE

Saartje van der Made Graduated with honours from the Faculty of Architecture at Delft University of Technology in 2008. She started working at Benthem Crouwel Architects in the same year. She has worked on very diverse projects, from museums, the bus drivers building at Amsterdam Central Station, to the Amsterdam North/South line and the new head office of the National Postcode Lottery.

Saartje is an inventive and original designer who's talent it is to come up with surprising, sometimes unusual solutions for the questions presented by a client. Working together with experts from a variety of disciplines, she creates an environment of open communication where interaction and inspiration are key.

It is her passion to work on public buildings, from small and intimate to large and complex – always in very close collaboration with both client and users, to ensure the end result is a building that is not only beautiful, but meets everyone's needs.
